The pay of the Health Officer is a legitimate charge on the municipality and its finances certainly permit of it bearing the charge The Municipality can not therefore claim exemption on the ground of financial incapability It will be a bad precedent if the Mysore city is exempted from paying in full the Salary of the Health Officer for, if the request is granted, the Bangalore city and the Sanitary Board will certainly make similar requests The Scheme provides for the pay of the Health Officers being borne by the two municipalities and the Sanitary Board and the Govt grant for the Health Dept can not afford to pay any portion of the Salary of these Officers and there is no other source from which the new expenditure proposed to be devolved on Govt can be met Besides, on principle Local Bodies are not entitled to financial relief in individual cases of expenditure and it is therefore at once necessary and advisable to insist on the Municipality

2) Under the new Municipal Regulation, Health officers are servants of the City Municipal Councils employing them, and in cases of necessity, the Govt. may even require a City Municipal Council to employ a Health officer if one is not already in the Municipality. The conditions were however different under the old Regulations which did not provide for a Health officer at all. Such being the case, it is not clear how the Bangalore City Municipal Corn. can ask to be relieved of the pay of their Health officer.
